Many Omahans have been watching the last few months' growth of the new University Library. But few roadside observers realize they are seeing more than a library grow before their eyes.

The rear section of the Library will house the Adult Conference Center. Included in the Center will be a Lecture Hall seating almost 400 people and four smaller conference rooms. Three of the conference rooms will seat 40 people each and the fourth room will seat 25 people.

In addition to the meeting room, the Center will also contain a lounge opposite the large Lecture Hall, a kitchenette for tea and coffee hours, an administrative office, check rooms and storage facilities.

Lecture Hall for Movies

The Lecture Hall and conference rooms will be equipped with chalk board and tack board. The Lecture Hall will also have a picture screen in the front of the room, a projection booth in the back, and a projection stand in the center of the room.

Adult Education Dean Donald Emery said, "The Adult Education Conference Center in the new Library will be the center for a great variety of short-term, intensive, non-credit educational experiences for adults. Programs may be a single session or may continue for several days."

Emery stressed that the Center is to be at the service of Omaha adults. He said it is essential that emphasis and use of the Center facilities be kept on its educational function and that the facilities in no sense become merely a convenient or available meeting place for community groups.

Versatility Apparent After Use
Credit courses or discussion groups meeting on a regular schedule or over a long period of time are not anticipated. Short-term adult discussion groups meeting four, five or six nights, once weekly, will fit the function and scheduling of the Center.

Social activities will be appropriate only in the sense that they supplement a primarily educational activity.

Dean Emery said it is both appropriate and useful.

Literary Magazine Available in May

Copies of the spring issue of the student literary magazine, "Grain of Sand," will be available early in May.

The issue will consist of six short stories and four poems. Winning entries of the "Grain of Sand" high school literary contest will be published. Winner of the short story division is John Andersen, Westside High School, with his "The Subway Ride." Paul Hass, a North high school student, won the poetry contest with his prize poem entitled, "E-mc2."

Omaha University short story contributors to the magazine include Bill Beindorff, "The Drunk"; Mary McCoy, "Married Madonna" and "Time's End"; Wendell Walker, "The Taste of Death;" and Susan Biven, "Obie: A Tale for Children."

The poems include "Beneath the earth . . ." and "The City Sleeps . . ." by Robert Miller, and "The Death of Bishop Ludovico Stoma" by Richard McLellan.

"We all believe that the issue will be a good one," commented Susan Biven, "Grain of Sand" editor.

Just for YOU...

YOU have been cheated!

You have been cheated if you've ever hunted for a parking place at OU and found you just couldn't quite squeeze your car into the spot because the fellow next to you had parked over the white line.

And YOU were cheated! Cheated of one parking space!

As bad as the parking situation is at OU, it seems that some students, through carelessness, thoughtlessness or lack of skill, persist in making this bad situation even worse. Those students are the "double-parkers"—the ones who park their cars over the white lines, taking up the space normally allotted to two cars and making it impossible to park another car next to them.

We think that drastic steps should be taken to discipline these "double-parkers" who are cheating you.

Since any car parked over the white line is illegally parked, a ticket should be given its owner. Also, we feel that a notation should be made on the ticket stating the reason for its issue. After any one person has received three tickets for "double-parking," we feel that he should no longer have the privilege of parking in the upper or lower school parking lots, but should have to park in Elmwood Park or the Fieldhouse lot. Thus, the "double-parkers" would have to do the walking instead of you.

Let's get rid of "double-parkers." No car, not even a Cadillac, is worth two spots—especially when YOU are late to a class!

Arlene Davis To Present $200 To Junior Angel

A world-famous aviatrix who was named Honorary Commander of the Angels Flight last year expressed her gratitude to the Omaha U. chapter last week.

Arlene Davis, voted by Congress as the outstanding woman flyer of 1951, is presenting $200 to the University to be given to an outstanding member of the Angel's Flight. The recipient of the award, she stipulated, will be the Angel attaining the highest scholastic average at the end of her Junior year.

Miss Davis said that the money will be used to purchase a round-trip airplane ticket to be used during the summer of 1955. The ticket will be used for transportation to the east, south, or west coast, she said.

The balance of the prize fund may be paid directly to the recipient to apply on other trip expenses.

Miss Davis first became aware of the Omaha U. Angels chapter when she was invited to a Military Ball. She was made an honorary member of the Flight, and last year was named Honorary Commander.

Miss Davis terms the OU Angels as her "favorite group." "I Arlene Davis . . . national Angel am proud to be associated with the University of Omaha Flight as an honorary member," she said. "Your Air Force ROTC is doing a wonderful job, and the Angels are a credit to Omaha, to the university and to aviation."

Combined Efforts To Produce University Spring Concert

University OU students and professional men and women will combine efforts next Tuesday to present the annual spring orchestra concert. The program will be at 8:15 p. m. in the University Auditorium.

University students play violins and blow horns side by side with printers, nurses, secretaries, teachers, ministers, housewives, Air Force men, machinists, repair men and railroad employees. The common ground of all these people is a love of music and the desire to perform.

Of the 52 musicians in the orchestra, most are from Omaha, but Irvington, Nebr., and Missouri Valley, Ia., are also represented.

Featured in the concert will be the first Omaha performance of Haydn's Symphony No. 49.

Conductor of the orchestra is Dr. James B. Peterson, music department head.

The program will contain overture to the opera "La Clemenza di Tito" by Mozart; Symphony No. 49 in F Minor, "La Passione" by Haydn; "Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major" by Schubert and "An Outdoor Overture" by Copland.

Prof To Give Speech

Dr. Guenter Schmalz, Foreign Language Department instructor, is attending the eighth Foreign Language Conference sponsored by the University of Kentucky today and tomorrow.

The conference is a gathering of 600-700 foreign language teachers throughout the country.

Choir To Sing At Music Hall

University of Omaha Madrigal Singers will appear at the Joslyn Art Museum Concert Hall Sunday at 4:30 p. m.

The program is being presented by the Omaha Music Teachers Association, Inc. in connection with the 32nd Annual Music Week.

The Madrigals, under the direction of Richard H. Brewer, will sing Motet No. 3 by John Sebastian Bach, "Jesus Dearest Master."

Women students who will sing include Janice Collins, Marilinn Johnson, Mary Jo Lasell, Barbara Murray, Lorna Nierste and Ruth Romberg.

Others are Susan Rowe, Bertha Vanacek, Pat Vogel, Jo Elyn Wakefield and Elinore Wells.

Handling the men's parts will be Robert Erickson, James Felton, Bruce Hirsh, Bill Ingle and Donald Rokusek.

Others are Ted Romberg, Joseph Slavik, Clifford Soubier and Wayne Thomas.

The North high school String Ensemble and the Duchesne Academy Chorus will also appear.

Library Progress

proper and necessary that the responsibility and scheduling of the Center be through the College of Adult Education. He also said the complete functional possibilities of the Center will become apparent only after one to three years of practice in using the facilities.

The Center will be available for approved University activities as long as such events do not displace Adult Education activities and do not establish a precedent for repeated scheduling of such activities.

It is contrary to the educational purposes of the Center to rent out areas of it for use of community groups. Instead, joint sponsorship of worthwhile educational activities by the College of Adult Education will be the only means by which community groups can use the Center.

Conferences to Meet at Center

Dean Emery said he expects the Center to house a minimum of 50 important conferences a year and up to 150 short, less important conferences and meetings. The type of programs expected in the Center are book reviews. The Institute of World Affairs, the Conference on School Affairs, the Secretary Seminar and the Lawn and Flower Clinic.

The Dean added that many adults want to continue their education, but not in formal classes. He feels that the educational conferences are the best way to help the people who support the University.

This is the first time a municipal university has built a special building for the use of home-town people and nearby residents only.

The Adult Conference Center will be open for use by January 1956.

Madrigals, Band Present Program

The American Music Convocation will be next Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the University Auditorium.

Members of Madrigals, the University Choir and the University Band will participate. The program will contain music by American composers only.

A trombone trio will present a composition by Dr. L. N. Garlough, General Science Department Head. A composition for wood-winds, written by senior music major Chuck Rullman, will also be given.

The convocation is sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's national music honorary, and will be directed by Richard Brewer, vocal music instructor.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

BECAUSE ONLY VICEROY GIVES YOU A PURE, NON-MINERAL, NON-TOXIC FILTER WITH 20,000 FILTER TRAPS IN EVERY FILTER TIP!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. Besides being non-mineral and non-toxic, this cellulose-acetate filter never shreds or crumbles.
3. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
4. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroys have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
5. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroys cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Roman Hruska Wins Achievement Award

Roman L. Hruska, Nebraska Republican Senator, was named Wednesday as the winner of the 1955 "Citation for Alumnus Achievement" by the Omaha University Alumni Association.

Alumni President Robert E. Seitzer, who made the announcement, said the award recognizes outstanding professional achievement by an Omaha University alumnus. The selection is made annually by the Alumni Board of Directors.

Presentation at Banquet

The citation scroll will be presented to the Senator at the alumni association's seventh annual Achievement Day Banquet, June 4. Mr. Hruska will address the alumni gathering following the presentation of the award.

Hruska attended Omaha University from 1923 to 1925. He later received his law degree from Creighton University. He became a member of the Board of Regents in 1949 and is currently serving as vice-president.

"Senator Hruska's rise in a little over two years from Douglas County Commissioner, to Congressman from Nebraska's second district, to U. S. Senator is indeed significant," said Mr. Seitzer.

Hruska was appointed County Commissioner in 1944 and served in that post until 1952. He is the past president of the Nebraska Association of County Officials and past vice-president of the National Association of County Officials. He was elected to Congress in November, 1952, and rose to United States Senator in November, 1954.

"Equally important," Seitzer added, "are the Senator's services to the University, his church, and such agencies as the county foundation for infantile paralysis."

Community Chest Director

The Senator served on the Community Chest board of directors from 1947 to 1949, and was Douglas County chairman of the 1954 Easter Seal campaign.

Past recipients of the alumni award are Rear Admiral Stanton W. Salisbury, former chief of Navy chaplains; Marguerite Harmon Bro, author and lecturer, and Adolph J. Schnider, former director of NBC-TV news and special events. Other recipients include Joe Arenas, San Francisco '49er halfback, Dr. W. L. Shearer, oral and plastic surgeon, and W. Robert Jenkins, first vice-president of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

State Department Schedules Exams

State Department Foreign Service Officer Examinations will be given June 24.

Deadline for applications is May 2. Failure to submit applications by this date will eliminate candidates.

Information pamphlets, sample questions from the examination and application forms are available in the placement office.

Campus Comments

Where Were YOU?

The University Choir presented its Third Annual Spring Concert last Saturday night.

The attendance at the concert was up from last year. Comments were heard to the effect that the Choir sang in top-notch style.

But we, the members of the Choir, are discouraged. The number of students present to hear their student choir in the student auditorium could have been counted on one hand.

The University Choir is a school organization for the benefit of the students.

Those are the facts. Do you blame us for being disappointed?

Last year, after singing to a scattering of townspeople, Choir members asked why students had not attended.

The reason given, "The concert was on a school night. Change it to a week-end. Then we will attend."

April 23 was a Saturday.

Granted, April 22 was the Military Ball. However, just as many choir members went to the Ball and were up just as late, if not later, than the rest of the student body.

Yes, it was raining. But we haven't seen any students made of sugar, who would melt, walking around these ivy halls yet.

Music too heavy, you say? Sorry, that one is no good either. Half the concert was lighter American music.

Why didn't you come? Would you tell us?

The University Choir.

Drake Relays Today; Doane Tuesday For OU

Omaha U cindermen will compete in two relays in the next four days. A limited squad is now at the Drake Relays in Des Moines to participate in one of the top track meets in the nation.

OU will have a shuttle relay quartet of Bob and Bill Barnes, Bob Gerdeman, and Lloyd Hunter. Other events tentatively posted for OU athletes are Bob Gerdeman in the 440-yard hurdles, and the mile relay team.

Doane Relays Tuesday

A larger contingent will go by bus to the Doane Relays at Crete, Neb., next Tuesday. Coach Ernie Gorr plans on entering men in the mile relay, the 880 relay, the distance medley relay and Barnes and Hunter in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Also participating will be Dave Piller in the broad jump, Dick May and Bob Jackson in the pole vault, and Roger Dunbier in the high jump.

Gerdeman Places at Kansas

A squad of nine OU trackmen were among the entries at Saturday's Kansas Relays. Gerdeman provided the Indians their only place in the rough competition, but many of the Omaha times in the relays were good.

Gerdeman qualified in the early morning preliminaries of the 400-meter hurdles and ran an excellent race in the afternoon finals, finishing fourth.

Fred Shinrock prepares to sink a four footer. Bluejay golfer Frank Rizzuto, Harry Curtis, Jerry Norene and Gary Blakeman watch.

Omaha U Netmen Run Over Opposition Nebraska, Creighton, NW Missouri Fall

Omaha U tennis team will play Hastings College today at Hastings. The Broncos won the Nebraska College Conference championship last year and are expected to have a strong team again this year.

Doane College tennis team travels to Omaha U Monday for a match, and OU goes to Des Moines to play Drake U Thursday.

The Indian netmen made it five victories in a row as they defeated Nebraska U, Northwest Missouri State and Creighton during the past week.

Apr. 20 OU scalped Nebraska at Lincoln 7-0 without losing a set. At Dewey Park Friday they defeated Northwest Missouri 7-0. Don Fisher lost his opening set in the number three match to end OU's streak at 50 sets without a defeat.

Monday OU took the measure of Creighton 5-2 without the services of the OU ace, Bill Berg. Berg sprained his ankle earlier at Dewey Park.

Fisher and Dervin won their matches in straight sets with little trouble. Helmuth Dahlke and Bill Feddersen also won their matches, but Howard Larimore lost to Norman Zeitzer, 6-4, 6-3.

Bill Berg opened the day against Northwest Missouri whipping the visitors' top player, Charles Adair, 6-0, 6-0. Only Indian to have trouble winning his match was Fisher. He lost the opening set 4-6, but came back to sweep the next two.

Cardwell Sees Tough, Rugged, Alumni Game

By Robert Henkel

Indians Play Iowa Teacher Doubleheader

Iowa State Teachers will serve as host today and tomorrow for Omaha U. The Indian baseball team will be trying for win number four.

This doubleheader could prove to be OU's toughest meet. The Teachers hold a decision over Iowa State, and they boast a strong mound staff and plenty of bench strength.

So far the Omaha team has shown plenty of batting power, but they already have dropped two games, as many as they suffered during the entire season last year.

The Omaha team will probably start Chris Salberg against the Teachers, and follow-up with John Cimino on Saturday.

Bill Steck has been carrying a big load of the Indian hitting attack, and he is getting stiff competition for high average from Don Hansen, Buddy Yambor and Cal Helme.

Omaha University's baseball team dropped their second game of the season Apr. 22, to Nebraska Wesleyan on the Indians' home diamond.

Stan Schatzle went all the way for the Omaha team on the hill, giving up only seven hits. A wild third inning, when Wesleyan scored all their runs, proved disastrous.

The Omaha team had one run in the ninth, and the tying run on third base, but usually-reliable Steck, took a called third strike to end the game.

Indian Golfers Meet K-State, Colorado Today

Omaha University golfers will step out on the fairways with big company today. Colorado and Kansas State, two leading Big Seven schools, will be the visitors at Happy Hollow.

The OU record so far is three wins and two losses. The Indians latest victory was a triangular win over Creighton University, 7½-4½, and Concordia, 12-0, Monday. Art Siegfried of Creighton was low with a 73. Par for the Country Club course is 71.

OU fell to Nebraska University, 10½-4½, at Lincoln Apr. 20. Dean Wilson was low for OU with a 76. Apr. 15 Morningside was overpowered by OU 15-3 at the Country Club. Dean Wilson was medalist with a 76 although he lost to Lou Wigersma, 2-1.

OU lost their opening match to Washburn, 11-10, at Omaha. Fred Anderson's eight-foot putt on the eighteenth green gave him a 2-1 victory over OU's Fred Shinrock and proved to be the deciding factor in the contest.

It's not the fall of the year, but talk of football is rapidly gaining around the OU campus. Every afternoon 42 men have been trying out for OU varsity football in their annual spring training.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell's squad are busy running plays and getting in shape. The squad will end their allotted spring practice with a game with the Alumni May 7.

Right now, the game shapes up as a real battle.

Cardwell says that there is a lot to do before May 7, but that "the boys are coming along in good shape." He says that "the boys are on schedule. We're running both formations now."

Cardie Expects Rugged Game

Cardie anticipates a "close, rugged" ball game. He said, "except for the bowl game, the Alumni game was the toughest game last year." This year's game looks like anybody's game.

The Indians have added the unbalanced "T" to their plays. Cardwell had words of praise for the early work of Don Sirles at quarterback. Sirles has been running with a backfield of Dick Mackie, Mary Eatinger, and 204-pound Ken Conrad at fullback.

Line coach Tom Brock has a pair of giant tackles, Ken Leeper 27, and Frank Ruvo 252, who have shown a great desire to play this spring. "If they can pick up more speed and lose a few pounds they'll be a mighty tough team," Brock stated.

Alumni Practice Hard

The Alumni club held practices over the weekend. The grads worked out both Saturday and Sunday. Charlie Mancuso, former OU guard, has taken charge of linemen. Player-coach Joe Arenas has a backfield combination of Arenas at quarterback, John Potts and Emil Radik at half and Freddie Abboud at full.

The Alumni-Varsity game will be played on Saturday, May 7, at 2 p.m. Student Activity tickets are good for free admission. General admission price is $1. All proceeds from the game will go to the University Athletic Department.

OU Coeds Model For Faculty Club

Members of Miss Sallie Garretson's first-year sewing class gave an "encore" performance yesterday for the Faculty Women's Club.

The performance was an adaptation of a previous style show given last semester for members of the faculty. "Back by popular demand," the coeds will also give parts of the style show for the faculty on Tuesday.

Show in Four Sections

The show was divided into four sections: morning attire, afternoon o'clock, and informal evening. Girls dressed in long blouses emphasized by jeweled accessories for the part of the day, introduced each section.

Dressed for morning wear, Gayle Anderson appeared in a red and white checked gingham apron with rope beads and bracelets. Also representing the five o'clock hour, Miss Anderson wore a pink organdy apron, white hat and metallic jewelry.

Depicting afternoon, Kay Kirk was dressed in black-and-chalk white apron and black picture hat with a bright orange rose and Chinese parasol of the same color. For informal evening, Miss Kirk appeared in clusters of rhinestones pinned on the leotard. She also wore formal white kid gloves and rhinestone ankle bracelet.

Model Own Dresses

Each of the girls in the style show modeled dresses they made in clothing classes. Student commentator was Betty Ellsworth. Those participating in the morning section were Claudia Olson, Gail Johnson, Jo Ann Smart, Beverly Wead and Joyce Wright.

Appearing in afternoon attire were Jean Carter, Suzette Estrada, Dorsyl Freels, Janet Steven, Marilyn Stolley, Betty Egbert and Elizabeth Vukelic.

Julia Jensen, Betty Marley, Gayle Martin and Mary Ellen Kallander took part in the five o'clock showing.

Those appearing in informal evening wear were Mary Louise Dryer, Janet Winslow and Mardee Martin.

Preceding the performance, Dr. Robert R. Berueffy, chemistry professor, talked to the faculty wives on cosmetics and their use.

Morris New PE Prexy

Joyce Morris is new president of the Women's Physical Education Majors and Minors Club.

Vice-president is Charlene Cameron, and Ruth Glandt is treasurer. The election resulted in a tie for the office of secretary. The majors will re-vote.

Hungry Worm Invades Book

Most people have heard of the proverbial bookworm. But like the equally proverbial purple cow they have never seen one, or even a sign of one.

However, in the University library you can find almost anything under the sun, including the trail of an obviously well-fed bookworm.

The critter, species unknown, took up his room and board in Vick's "Monthly Magazine" Vol. VI, 1883. During his stay in the volume, he traveled from cover to cover throughout all 392 pages of the book.

There was absolutely no discrimination on his part; one section of the book seemed as good as another. Vick's "Monthly" must have been delectable and fattening because the hole where the worm came out is much larger than the one he went in.

The University library cannot claim the distinction of having harbored a bookworm though. The volume was sent here from another school.

A few minutes of research about bookworms turned up this bit of information: silverfish are the most notorious bookworms. They love dark, warm places and starchy food. There seems to be no accounting for some insects' tastes.

Drumbeat

Sitting in Humanities class recently, a strange loud crunching noise was heard over the professor's lecture.

Fearfully glancing over her shoulder, the coed discovered the disturbance's source. Ex-Benson Bunny Sue Moss, evidently forgetting that she's now an OU Indian, was happily, if noisily, munching a large, crisp carrot.

One OU student is just in from the farm . . . or else hasn't had time to become acquainted with the University. This student turned in a paper with a reference to University President MILO BAILEY!

Dean Donald Emery happened to have his little girl at school while Prom Queen campaigning was in full swing. The young Emery was fascinated by the kangaroo poster containing one of the candidate's pictures.

"Daddy," she piped, "look at the kangaroo's baby!"

Economics instructor Roderic Crane was lecturing placidly to a large class in the auditorium when a mailman entered the auditorium through the back door and walked unconcernedly across the room.

"Well," said Crane, "you know their motto — the mail must go through!"

In the midst of a very technical lecture on the human nervous system, the psychology instructor stopped abruptly, paused, and suddenly said, "Before he breaks his neck!"

His audience was immediately confused—until the instructor added, "wake up that boy in the last row."

During a guided tour through the Dr. J. P. Lord school, members of a beginning education class listened attentively to the man leading them.

As the group prepared to leave, Hapriett Meyers thanked the "guide" profusely, commented on "his" school, then discovered the man was James Porterfield, OU education instructor.

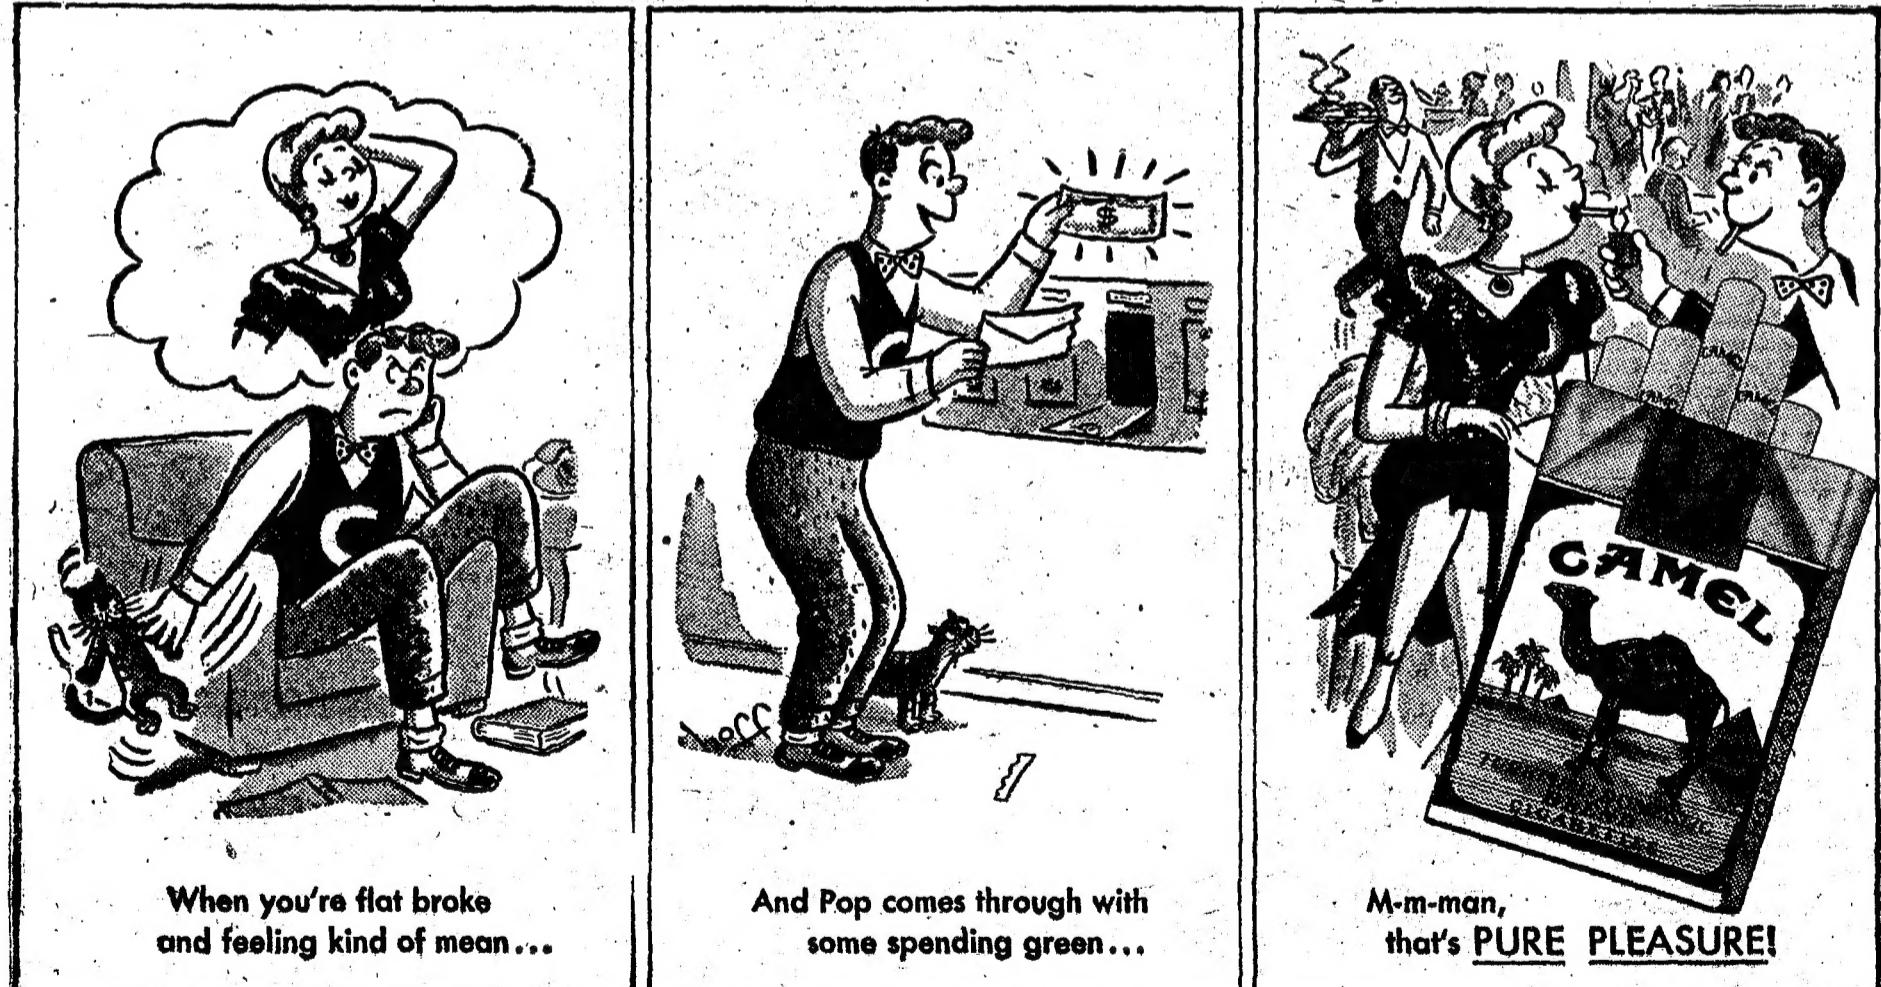

Cafeteria Cashier Elsie Kloke took a second look today when a girl nonchalantly walked up to her and plunked down five lunch tickets.

The tickets didn't faze her as much as the one-hundred-dollar bill with which the girl had to pay her tabs.

Just as casually, Kloke reached into her money sack behind the counter, picked out one hundred dollars in bills and counted out the proper change.

A co-ed, displaying typical feminine logic, looked a bit perplexed in her non-textiles class.

Raising her hand to catch the instructor's eye, she piped up with, "Do you know those words we were supposed to look up for today? Well, I had a little trouble with one! STIMULATED leather just isn't in the dictionary."

Dunbier Receives Scholastic Honors

Roger Dunbier, recently announced winner of a two-year scholarship for study at Oxford University in England, has proved that it is possible to successfully combine high scholarship with activities.

Dunbier, who has an accumulative average of 3.92 for his four years at Omaha University, has mixed student activities such as track and University clubs with high scholarship and has come out with the formula for outstanding achievement.

Double Major

This spring Dunbier will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree in economics and history. And in October he will head for Edmund Hall, Oxford University, where he will study geography.

The scholarship is given by the Marshall Scholarship Scheme, a British gesture of appreciation for Marshall Aid. It provides for 12 United States scholars to study at British universities for periods of two, and sometimes three, years.

Each scholarship is valued at around $1,540 a year, which is estimated to be ample for student life in Britain. About 400 candidates competed this year for the 12 scholarships.

Interested in Foreign Service

After two years of study Dunbier hopes to get into some type of foreign service work.

Scholarships are not new for Dunbier, though. He was awarded a University Honor scholarship in his sophomore year and last year received the Brandeis scholarship.

He has lettered on the track team for four years and now holds the Omaha University high jump record. Dunbier is vice president of Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's leadership organization. He was secretary of "O" Club. Other activities include social chairman of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, president of the Young Democrats club, and member of Corinthians.

'50 Grads Top Kenton Sponsors New Club Drive Roster

Graduates from the class of 1950 now lead the Omaha University Alumni Drive with 64 contributions.

More than $7,900 has been pledged to the drive. Last year's total was $3,000.

The class of 1954 is in second place with 60 donations.

"This fine showing from the class of '54 is particularly encouraging since they have only been out of college one year," commented Tom Townsend, alumni secretary.

The first graduating class, 1913, has two contributors, a good percentage since there were only eleven grads. Other classes boasting many contributors are 1952, with 52 contributions; 1949, with 46 contributions; 1951, with 43 contributions and 1953, with 41 contributions.

Donations have been received from 24 states, Washington, D. C., England, Germany, Newfoundland, Mexico and Korea.

Marquardts' Teas Honor OU Clubs

Tea for two—hundred, that is!

This number may seem fabulous, but that is exactly how many students have been entertained by Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Marquardt at afternoon teas this spring.

The new chemistry professor and his wife have entertained each of the four sororities. The ISA tea will be later in the spring.

Dr. Marquardt has had a versatile background. After attending Grinnell College and the University of Iowa, he taught at Iowa State Teacher's College at Cedar Falls. Then he worked in industry for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and later for General Electric. Soon he went to the University of Nebraska, where he was in the chemistry department, and from there he came to OU.

Mrs. Marquardt's college major in Art-Home-Ec is evident in their home, where they spend leisure hours working with wood.
